

BeReal Terms&Conditions

BeReal processes general data such as name, date of birth, e-mail address and telephone number. This is normal and fine for me. Apart for that the app collect device data such as IP address, connection data, interactions with other users, time of posting, type, location, and language.

I knew in advance that a lot of data is collected on any app. However, I must honestly admit that I never read through the Terms & Conditions, because I do not want to know exactly how much you are "controlled".
